Art has been a lifetime commitment that has enriched my life throughout the years, ever changing and evolving.

I paint for the pleasure of creating a work that inspires me and I hope imparts positive thoughts to the viewer while portraying the everyday beauty that surrounds us, which is sometimes overlooked in our busy lives. The subject can be a special animal, a piece of driftwood or perhaps a sunset that is so awesome that it begs to be painted.

Acrylics are my medium of choice, although I have worked in oils, pastels and graphite. The wonderful blend of colors in nature can never be duplicated but trying is my goal and an endless challenge.
