THAT WHICH INSPIRES ME:

Dreams, metaphors, secrets, historic and bizarre clothing, all things living, books, black and white photography, the subtle differences between human beings: mannerisms/facial structure/how people choose to present themselves to the world, what people's "alone self" looks like versus their public/interacting self, masks, non-traditional or unexpected beauty, symbolism, corrugated cardboard, felt, apparent stitches, coloring books, trees, veins, contrast, the belief that simply because we are human, our purpose is to convey love to others in any way that we can.
